THE first and second volumes of the Supplement are referred to as volumes fourth and fifth of the Digest. The List of Reports prefixed to the volume is taken entire from the first volume of the Supplement, and sufficiently explains the abbreviations used. It was originally contemplated to refer to the subject-matter of each case in the entry of both the plaintiff and defendant, but as it was found that it would triple the size of the work, the design was dropped.

Great pains have been taken to make this Table of Cases accurate, yet in a labor almost entirely clerical, and amid such a multitude of cases and references, some mistakes must doubtless have occurred. Those who know the toil of preparing such a work will easily pardon the errors, and it is hoped that the Table will be of so much use to others, that they will excuse whatever inaccuracies may be discovered.
